3. TOUR PRESENTER'S AGREEMENT ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

If you are offering your home for the tour, you need to acknowledge this agreement

Tour Presenter's agreement:

I understand that by applying to the Eco Solar Home Tour that I agree to host an open house on the agreed date and that I am responsible for the conduct of the tour at my house/building on tour day. The Eco Solar Home Tour Society will promote my open house using the information that I provide. The Eco Solar Home Tour Society has my permission to publish the address and representative pictures of my house/building on their web site and in other media to promote the tour. I agree that the Eco Solar Home Tour Society may take pictures of the house/building and any people on my property for the purposes of promoting the tour. I understand that I will need to provide the people needed to run my open house and that a dedicated greeter is a requirement of the tour. Information tables staffed by suppliers involved in building the house/building are encouraged but direct sales of goods or services are not permitted.

The Eco Solar Home Tour attempts to provide a positive and fair showcase of energy efficient technologies; I understand that badmouthing or cutting down of competitive technologies or companies is against tour policy; if I am not in favour of a particular technology then I will hold my comments and let others describe that technology.

I agree that promotional materials such as signs, flags, and other reusable items provided by the Eco Solar Home Tour Society will be returned promptly after the tour. I acknowledge that there is suitable insurance in place that will provide coverage for people that visit the open house.

In addition, builders agree that their company will be responsible for providing safe access for visitors on sites that are under construction. Builders also agree that they have the owner's agreement (if the home is sold) to show the house on tour day.

Since each home is private property, the homeowner (tour presenter) will ultimately be responsible for controlling the visitors on site.

I acknowledge that I have read and understand the 2025 Eco-Solar Home Tour agreement:
